Spider Vein Reduction.

Spider Vein Laser Treatments use the advanced Cutera Excel V+ vascular laser to safely target and reduce visible spider veins on the legs. The laser energy is absorbed by the blood vessels, causing them to coagulate and break down naturally within the body's lymphatic system. This treatment can significantly reduce the appearance of unwanted veins, with minimal downtime.

BENEFITS

Recommended Treatment Plan.

Treatment plans are tailored to the size, location, and severity of the spider veins being treated. For optimal results, a minimum of 3 treatments spaced approximately 8 weeks apart is generally recommended. Following treatment, the targeted vessels are gradually broken down and naturally cleared by the body, with improvements continuing to develop over 4–6 weeks after each session.

Many clients notice progressive improvement throughout their treatment course, with the best results typically achieved after completing the recommended series. As new spider veins can develop over time, maintenance treatments may be recommended to help preserve long-term results.

RECOVERY TIME

Minimal downtime is typically expected following spider vein laser treatment however some clients may experience a temporary histamine response, which may present as mild swelling and redness around the treated vessels, often resembling the appearance of a cat scratch. Bruising may also occur, particularly when treating larger or more prominent vessels, and can take several days or weeks to resolve. Some warmth, tenderness, or sensitivity in the treated area is also normal.

The targeted vessels may initially appear darker before gradually fading as they are naturally cleared by the body over the following weeks. To support optimal healing and results, your clinician may recommend avoiding excessive heat, strenuous exercise, and prolonged sun exposure for a short period after treatment.

To help you achieve the best possible results, your clinician will guide you through any required aftercare before your treatment. Comprehensive aftercare information can also be provided ahead of your appointment if desired.
